WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Practically winding up revision of the levy sections of the 1912 tax law, house ways and means committee Republicans voted today to increase from $2,000 to $2,500 the exemption allowing married men having an annual net income of $5,000 or less. This change would be retroactive to January 1, 1921 and would be in addition to the increase of $200 in the exemption for each dependent of a head of a family previously decided upon.

Agreement also was reached, it was stated, to decrease the manufacturers' tax on candy from five to three per cent, the manufacturers' tax on furs from 10 to 5 per cent, the tax on art works from 10 per cent, the committee had made no basis is found in the first three alternatives, the basis of assessment would revert to the production cost plus the necessary expenses of laying the shipment down in American.

Quill Pen Used By Lincoln Stolen In Chicago

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—The quill pen used by President Lincoln in signing his first inaugural address has been stolen from the exhibit of the Chicago Historical Society at the Pageant of Progress, it was learned today. The pen was made from the feather of an American Eagle killed by an admirer of Lincoln just before the latter's election. The heretofore unpublished letter which accompanied the gift said the quill was from an eagle which had died rather than sacrifice its liberty.

The house members also agreed to an amendment by the finance committee to the Longworth resolution extending the life of the emergency tariff law as well as the dye embargo to January 1, or until superseded by the permanent law. The resolution with its amendment was ordered favorably reported.

Fordney Claims Victory
Even with the changes, Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee declared that "a distant victory" had been won for the American valuation plan. Changes made by the finance committee Republicans, experts said, would make the valuation plan more workable and less likely to result in litigation. As worked out by the experts and accepted by the joint conference, ad valorem duties would be assessed on the basis of the American Wholesale selling price on all imports where comparable and competitive articles of domestic manufacture are found. This provision, it was believed would apply to about 75 per cent of all imports. Where no comparable and competitive American made article is found, the duty will be assessed on the American wholesale selling price of a comparable and competitive imported commodity.

In event no such basis exists, then the duty would be levied on the value of the article in its home land at the time of export plus necessary expenses to an American port, and a reasonable profit, totalling not less than 16 per cent of the article's value. If no basis is found in the first three alternatives, the basis of assessment would revert to the production cost plus the necessary expenses of laying the shipment down in American.

SHIPPING BOARD SALARIES MEET WITH CRITICISM

Results in Amended
Bill Allowing Three
$12,500 Yearly

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, August 12.—Criticism in the house today by both Republicans and Democrats of the salaries paid by the shipping board culminated in the adoption of an amendment to the bill carrying $45,000,000 for expenses of the board until Jan. 1, next, that not more than three officials shall receive more than $12,500 a year.

The amendment was offered by Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee after the house had voted down an amendment by Representative Hardy, Democrat, Texas, to make the $12,500 limit apply to all but two officials.

An amendment by Representative Sweet, Republican, Iowa, to cut the amount carried in the bill to $25,000,000 was defeated 69 to 52, while an amendment offered by Representative Byrnes, Democrat, Tenn., that a funds of the shipping board should be used to settle claims was final out on a point of order. A final vote on the bill is first order of business for tomorrow.

Says Lasker Weak.

Representative Walsh, Republican, Mass., who was chairman of the committee which recently investigated shipping board affairs, declared he was "pretty strong on promises but seems to be pretty weak on facts."

Stone, president of Purdue University, who plunged to his death in the Canadian Rockies near Banff on July 17, passed thru this city this afternoon. UPPER SILESIA QUESTION GOES TO THE LEAGUE

British and French
Premiers to Accept
League Advice

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Aug. 12.—The disposition of the rich regions of Upper Silesia which has disturbed the peace of mind of Europe since the signing of the treaty of Versailles, is postponed for several months by the action of the inter-allied supreme council today in requesting the council of the league of nations to study the subject and advise upon fixing of a line separating Germany and Poland. The text of the resolution asking the council to aid in settling the question was drawn so as to avoid the appearance of arbitration which is not provided for in the treaty of Versailles. It follows:

Settlement Urgent.
"The council of the league is requested to regard the matter as one of great urgency in view of the situation in Upper Silesia."

The resolution was so drawn that the council of the league may not decide the question at issue, but Premier Lloyd George and Briand pledged themselves to accept the advice of the league. It was remarked informally that the council of the league could hardly make any recommendation in less than three or four months.

May Seek Referee
Intimations had been prevalent as the disagreement over the situation became more evident. The President Harding would be asked to decide upon the boundary line, not officially, but unofficially as a private person, he to be provided with every facility for his representatives to examine into the question and the powers to agree in advance to accept his opinion as final.

League Councils Pleased
Friends of the league expressed delight tonight over the reference of what is deemed the most difficult and dangerous question in European politics to the league a fortnight before the assembly meets in Geneva and at the three principal powers of Europe recognize the high authority of the league.

SECRETARY HUGHES TO HEAD DELEGATION AT NOV. CONFERENCE

Remainder of American Delegation to Disarmament Conference to be Named Soon
—Woman Delegate a Possibility—President Harding to Deliver Opening Address

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Harding has definitely designated Secretary Hughes to head the American delegation at the disarmament conference and has placed in his hands the task of arranging all remaining details of the meeting. Other members of the delegation have not been selected.

Any expectation that the president would act as a delegate was overthrown by the announcement. He is reported to have narrowed considerably the list of those he considers available and is understood to have decided that at least one of the places shall go to a United States senator.

The choice of a woman as a delegate is within the range of possibility. The exact role to be played by the president never has been officially defined but the general expectation is that after delivering the opening address on Nov. 11, he will remain in the background of the negotiations, leaving direct contact with the foreign commissioners to his accredited representatives, but keeping in close touch with them and with all the proceedings of the conference.

Will Avoid Details
President Harding's close advisers are said to feel that by keeping away from details of the disarmament discussions he can reserve his efforts for the more important features and be so placed as to act as mediator for all the delegates in any disagreement that might threaten the success of the conference. Not only has the president placed Mr. Hughes at the head of the American delegates but he also has turned over to the state department the task of clearing away all the details remaining to be disposed of before the conference meets. It is understood that the chief executive intends to visit only the more important moves.

A problem which threatens to occupy the attentions of a large staff before it is solved, was tackled by the department today when it offered its aid to the embassies and legations of the invited nations in securing suitable quarters and other accommodations for the visiting delegations. Each of the powers is expected to send a large corps of experts, clerks and other attaches with its commission.

While replies were awaited to the formal invitations dispatched yesterday speculation in diplomatic circles here today was concerned chiefly with the scope which may be taken by the conference under the terms laid down by the invitations. The most lively topic of discussion was the statement in the text that there should be consideration of "matters which have been and are of international concern."

In the absence of an interpretation by the state department, diplomats were not inclined to predict that the American government would seek to include incidents diplomatically closed as among those which might properly come before the conference.

The young woman avers that by mutual agreement between herself and Stoffel's wife she and the other wife have shared Stoffel's time half and half. Stoffel is under arrest.

The weed question is not one which bothers the smaller cities and towns only. In St. Louis a campaign has been waged to rid the city of noxious weeds and with only partial success.

The president has designated Secretary Hughes as the official representative of the United States at the disarmament conference. Those who were wondering if the president would not attend himself need not have been disturbed. The mistake that Mr. Wilson made in designating himself to sit at the council table in the league of nations conference is a matter of too recent memory.

Income tax provisions have been amended to increase the exemption for each dependent from $200 to $400. Any head of a family can testify to the equity of this change. If the figures were placed at the real cost they would be considerably higher than $400.

The farm bureau federation now proposes the organization of a national livestock shipping association. It is not surprising that the farmers who raise livestock are anxious to have more to say than they have had in the past with reference to the sale of the stock. But it is to be hoped that the new branch of business will have a more successful history than has been true of the packing plants that farmers have financed from time to time.

MR. BRYAN'S DAUGHTER

The Jacksonville chautauqua seemingly ranks among the permanent successful enterprises of the city. The chautauqua has continued for about ten years and there has been no lessening of interest. It is safe to say in this connection that if the management is able to secure each year as excellent a first day program as that staged yesterday, the success of the institution will continue.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen's address pleased the big afternoon audience because it was so informing and so delightfully given. In telling of the retaking of Palosine Mrs. Owen had a great theme and in the language chosen, in her subtlety of expression, she gave ample proof of her ability to handle such a subject. As a public speaker Mrs. Owen certainly has ease coupled with modesty, a voice soft but with great carrying power and a marvelous ability in the use of words.

A WORTH WHILE PROJECT

Rotary clubs of Tennessee have undertaken the worth while project of lifting a 12,000 mortgage upon the Alvin York farm. The clubs are entering so heartily into the project that it is almost certain to succeed. York, it will be remembered, had the distinction of killing single-handed more Germans than was true of any other soldier in the war.

It is said that he is under such financial difficulties that he is about to lose the old home farm and Tennessee Rotarians rightly think that it would be a shameful thing for this to happen to a man who rendered such conspicuous service to his country.

A SOURCE OF REVENUE

Altho the prohibition enforcement unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau is not intended to be a revenue-producing unit, the officials of the unit believe it will furnish a surprise in this connection. An example of how this can readily be furnished by a current case in Louisiana.

New Orleans breweries found guilty of law violations came into court and agreed to pay a fine of $127,000.00. The government accepted the proposition with the understanding that the payment of the fine did not grant immunity to the defendants from prosecution. The annual budget of the prohibition enforcement unit in the entire state of Louisiana is $55,900,000. This includes all salaries, overhead and traveling expenses, so that the fines collected in this one case will pay the expenses of the Louisiana unit for two years.

It is predicted with a great deal of confidence that even more favorable returns will be made in other states so that the unit will be able to show by the end of the year that instead of costing the government several million dollars amendment, in point of fact the fines collected have balanced appropriations which congress allowed.

The business matters out of the way, the afternoon was given over to a delightful entertainment which was furnished by Mrs. Lella Bourn. Mrs. Bourn read a paper on the sacred song "Onward Christian Soldiers," giving many interesting facts about its writing. During an intermission the sacred song, "Keep Your Heart Singing," was sung by all. Then followed several choice selections of popular music on piano and violin by Miss Wilma Crum and her sister, Miss Alta. Miss Crum also sang a vocal solo in a pleasing manner.

During the social hour the hostesses served delicious refreshments. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Bourn, Thursday, Sept. 15. Walter E. Spoona officiated at the ceremony, which was a simple one. Miss Julia Mendonsa and Arthur Mendonsa, sister and brother of the bride, were the attendants. Only a limited number of friends and relatives were present.

The wedding march was played by Miss Lillian Sardina, and the notes of the music sounded the young people stood before the minister for the impressive service.

The bride, who has always lived in Jacksonville, graduated from the 1920 High School class with honors. She is a member of Northminster church and a young woman held in very high esteem by all who know her. Mr. Broome is a linotype operator for the Springfield Register and has the confidence and good will of his employers. The young people will establish their home on Fayette street in Springfield.

Cards informing the public that the organization operates a Tourist Information Bureau and a Free Employment Bureau and finds desirable rooms for those desiring same are being placed in the stores, garages and railway stations today.

Sign painters were engaged Friday in painting signs on the front windows of the office facing the south, two of the windows bearing the words, Chamber of Commerce, while the others are inscribed with the following: Free Employment Bureau, Tourist Information, Room Placement Bureau and Ladies Rest Room.

The rest room is a new feature just opened. It is equipped with comfortable rocking chairs, library table, writing desk and telephone, also rugs, reading matter and toilet facilities. The rest room is for the use of the ladies and they are invited to make use of it.

CHAUTAUQUA STARTS WITH RECORD CROWDS

ATTENDANCE FRIDAY BEST FOR ANY FIRST DAY

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Heard In Fine Address—Musical Programs By The Parnells Pleased Afternoon and Evening Audiences—Mr. Gage Is Forceful Platform Manager.

The Jacksonville chautauqua yesterday had the biggest opening day in its history. The attendance afternoon and evening broke first day records, according to a statement made last night by Frank J. Helm of the board of directors. A few days ago there were indications that the ticket sale would not meet expectations of directors, but Friday this year was quickly dispelled and the demand was very active for subscribers' tickets. A few still remain in the hands of merchants but will undoubtedly be sold out today.

Charles A. Gage is the platform manager this year and his work yesterday afternoon and evening gave ample proof that the management has been fortunate this year in securing his services. In the afternoon the chautauqua formally began with a brief statement by Charles A. Gage, the platform manager, who then introduced the Musical Parnells. This splendid musical program was followed by an address by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen.

The directors made no mistake in booking Mrs. Owen as a first attraction, for her splendid address gave the chautauqua a fine beginning. Mrs. Owen is William J. Bryan's own daughter and she speaks with a fluency and nicety of words given to few, either men or women.

In the Holy Land. The unusual experiences of the speaker in the Holy Land in the months just preceding the time when it was retaken furnished the theme for an address of absorbing interest. Mrs. Owen spoke of her good fortune at being present when the finger of fate was writing that important chapter in world history, the time when Palestine was wrested from the Turks.

The speaker said that she had chosen the theme, "Modern Arabians Knights," for several reasons. First, because she believed that more political importance attached to the restoration of the Holy Land than is commonly supposed. Secondly, that in her belief, one-half of the Kaiser's restlessness upon the conquest of Europe and one-half upon his purpose to build up an empire in Asia. Then she said another reason for choosing the theme was because it was possible in an hour's time to give a somewhat clearer picture of the taking of the Holy Land while it remains for historians in volume after volume to give only a partial picture of the five years' war struggle thru the areas of France and Belgium.

The speaker said that fifteen years ago she had been taken to the Holy Land by her parents, a somewhat reluctant traveler, but that after her experiences and observations there she had returned a sincere pilgrim and with a longing that the Holy Land might some day be torn from the control of the cruel haters of our religion.

Very deftly Mrs. Owen told of her every day experiences in the life of Cairo, to impress upon her audience the workings of the Oriental mind and something of the customs of the people. These things were told, merely as if incidental to the main theme, but they added wonderfully to the interest of the whole story.

"The task of the troops," said Mrs. Owen, "was just about the same as that of Moses, for they had to cross the desert of Sinai. Years upon years Moses took for the task, while less than two years was required for the English army. I looked upon the desert and mentally decided about the preparation that had been necessary to equip 100 men for two days stay there. Then I was able to grasp something of what it meant to send 100,000 men on the long, long journey thru the desert. But the problem was solved by engineers, as they ran a small railroad behind the troops and laid the pipe line that carried the water necessary for their life.

The Career of Lawrence. "When the whole history of the war is told I do not believe that you will read of a more conspicuous figure than Col. Lawrence, whose career is now known to a comparatively few. This man, who was at first refused for service because of physical frailness, was able to raise an army of 200,000 Arabs and his forces met with the English at the most critical time. The story of the accomplishments of Col. Lawrence reads almost like a wild romance but from personal experience and investigation I can attest the truth of that story."

In a very impressive way Mrs. Owen told of the entrance of the English troops into the Holy City of Jerusalem. Gen. Allenby and all other officers walked as true pilgrims, as they trod upon Holy ground. Their action was in sharp contrast with that of the Kaiser, who years before had caused a portion of the city wall to be removed so that his automobile might pass thru and he and his party arrived in the Holy City with due splendor.

The speaker said that on every hand in Jerusalem there was evidence not only of the Kaiser's visit but of his efforts, made thru the years, to bring the situation there wholly under his influence. The arrogance of the German was well displayed in the hospital he erected on the Mount of Olives. There on one wall is a picture of the Holy family, while upon the other wall is shown the Kaiser and his family. With these and other details Mrs. Owen impressed the importance of the campaign in Palestine and the efforts that the Kaiser had been making there for years past.

Then she touched upon some of the awfulness of war, as she related the feeling that came to her heart as she sat by the bedside of a wounded soldier and stayed with him until the final hour. "In that hour," Mrs. Owen said, "there was a ray in my heart the fervent wish that by some means nations could find a certain way to settle their disputes without bloodshed. That thought has remained with me ever since, and I firmly believe that the time will come when nations will find a way to put an end to wars."

"I believe this condition will come sooner because the women of two great nations have been given full suffrage. Someone has said that no woman can look on a battlefield without thinking of the soldiers as the boys of mothers at home. It is a fine thing that women have a view point of their own and that very fact I believe will help them in finding some way that a peace machine can be put into continuous operation."

Evening Program. In the evening another large audience was present and at 7:30 Mr. Gage conducted a song service. He is a splendid musician himself and the audience last night found him a great leader. After this program came the Parnells with their varied musical entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. Parnell sang various musical instruments since extending, well and their sketches were equally worth while. The whole program was of a kind that the big audience heartily approved. Mr. Gage is surely a capable platform manager.

Chautauqua Notes. The park was especially inviting, recent rains having caused all to look fresh and green; the roads and drives were free from dust, the grass was well cut and all was done that was possible to make ready for the great enterprise which means so much to the people of Jacksonville and adjacent territory.

One matter deserves especial mention. The arrangements have been made for city police to patrol the grounds, especially at night, so as to see that all is in perfect order. They will report hourly to the chief and see to it that things are kept in shape at all times. They will be regularly commissioned city policemen with full authority to act as such. Supt. Hopper has devised some new seats which will be very valuable. They have for ends heavy concrete work needing two men to handle them at all. When put in place they will stay there which will be a great desideratum.

The Red Cross tent is fitted with all the needed appliances for first aid should any one be so unfortunate as to be hurt or become seriously ill suddenly. The officers have their tent in shape for headquarters where all may go for information, to telephone or otherwise as deemed desirable. It is located in its usual place.

About a fourth of the campers put in their appearance Thursday night which was a good representation for the beginning and yesterday morning they seemed perfectly at home.

All automobiles must stay on the drives or park beyond the loop which is bounded by the lake, the drive, the hedge and the south row of tents. Plenty of room elsewhere.

I. C. Lair, with ten just north of the Y. M. C. A., has charge of renting and will attend to any who want canvas homes.

The Y. M. C. A. tent will be well equipped as usual for business in its line and all are invited to call and make themselves at home.

The county fair tent is in a conspicuous place and ready to disseminate information regarding that enterprise.

Mullen & Hamilton are on hand as usual with arrangements to care for the thirsty and those wanting dainty refreshments.

Miss Caroline Johnson of Chapin is on hand for the ninth time and well pleased as ever. She is from Chapin and has with her Mrs. Della Cooper and son Edgar. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoover. The dining room is better equipped than ever. As usual the Christian church ladies have it in charge. Mrs. Lillian King is the efficient commander in chief while Mrs. C. L. Mathis is at the head of the cooking department, assisted by experienced help so that the very best of eats may be expected at fair prices. They have conspicuously posted a highly artistic piece of work accompanying the slogan of the chamber of commerce, "Jacksonville Suits Me—It Will You." It is the work of Miss Clara Cobb, a skillful artist. The ladies have also invested in a $75 percolator so that lovers of coffee may expect something more than usual this year.

Mrs. Earl Fox is this year with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Moxon, in their tent and with them also is G. R. Fox well and pleasantly located.

Henry Alderson of Chapin is a new camper but will doubtless be well enough pleased to come back again.

Mrs. George Hembrough, Mrs. Carl Hembrough and Mrs. Charles Belmer, sisters, have a pleasant location and will have their husbands with them whenever they can get away from farm work.

The "Fox Den" this year is occupied by J. M. Fox in command with John Claus, Mrs. John Claus and daughter in addition.

Henry Alderson and family of Chapin are well fixed with Herman Flatbush as guest.

"Tumble Inn" tent is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Cratz. Then they have as guests or tentmates three ladies, one of whom once wielded the rod (?) or the persuasiveness of love in the school room and the others are here yet. They are Mrs. E. Coultas, Miss Edna Elison and Miss Miriam Kenyon.

The "Chicken Coop" is a pleasant place with Mrs. G. W. Randle acting as Mother Carey to a bevy of bright, pretty and attractive chicks. They are Elbert Whitlock and Misses Martha Strang, Louise Sheppard, Olive and Dorothy Randle, Mattie Cox and E. Boruff. They surely have a merry time and all in best of order.

"Sinclair Inn" is commanded by Mrs. Walter Wheeler and daughters, Misses Lilly, Frances and Hattie, and Misses, Misses Esther and Ruby Wheeler.

Mrs. Wm. Ludwig is chaperone in the C. A. Hempte tent. There are with her now Misses Helen, Mary, Catherine and Alice Hempte and they are having a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hackett, Charles Jr. and Mrs. Hackett have a tent pleasantly located.

Mrs. Anna Moody and mother, Mrs. C. W. Ranson and Bertha Coates are occupants of a fine tent.

George Haigh and family have with them Mrs. Kenneth Hull and son Fred, an amiable and pleasing family.

"Takeitery" tent is headed by M. L. Dickens with Mrs. Voorhees and occasional visitors.

Two harmonious Lynnvill campers are Walter Fearey-hough and Fred Schofield who will have a fine tent full with their families.

"Cop Headquarters" is the home of Mrs. Curtis Copp and three children, Rollin, Alice and Sanford. They will fully enjoy the occasion.

Henry Kamm and family, C. E. Williamson and family, Mrs. Wm. Florsheim and Mrs. Bernard E. Bee of Mississippi, sister of Mrs. Kamm, make fine tent full of interested people.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Seif are well fixed and waiting for the arrival of some of their friends from the vicinity of Woodson.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reeve and son, Glidden, are well situated and hope this year they will be able to enjoy the ten days without interruption which last year was unavoidable.

Mrs. Henry Bursig of the Jacob Strawn homestead are pleasantly located and have for companions Roland Walker, Miss May Ober and Mrs. Mattie Sage.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Crane and children and Mrs. Crane's mother, Mrs. Morris Seymour, are a happy family on the north side of the colony.

J. H. Dial and Willard Wesner preside at the entrance which insures courteous treatment of all patrons of the chautauqua and little comfort for any who may be tempted to play smart and get ahead of the management.

A very pleasant household is that of Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. M. Van Houten who will have some of the time Mrs. VanHouten's aged mother, Mrs. Kirkman, who will be able to enjoy some of the good things offered.

One of the very best locations in the whole tent colony was rented by Lloyd Carter and father, E. P. Carter. It is on the bank of the pond and has uninterrupted view west, north and south and is absolutely enchanting. The young man is decidedly aspiring in his arrangements having the tent wired for electric light, a floor and a whole lot of fixings to make it attractive.

Mrs. J. H. Dauskin has been most ambitious of all. She has rented for the month the custodian's house beside the Vandalla road and has had it all fixed up and it is simply warming. She can sit on the porch and contemplate Mauvalsterre lake or take the south view all over the park. The trees about the place make it well high ideal and she is the envy of all who visit her.

It is on the bank of the pond and has uninterrupted view west, north and south and is absolutely enchanting. The young man is decidedly aspiring in his arrangements having the tent wired for electric light, a floor and a whole lot of fixings to make it attractive.

Mrs. J. H. Dauskin has been most ambitious of all. She has rented for the month the custodian's house beside the Vandalla road and has had it all fixed up and it is simply warming. She can sit on the porch and contemplate Mauvalsterre lake or take the south view all over the park. The trees about the place make it well high ideal and she is the envy of all who visit her.

PARIS WELCOMES LEGION MEMBERS

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Aug. 12.—Paris welcomed the 250 representatives of the American Legion who came to France to attend the dedication of the French monument to the American Expeditionary Forces, with much the same spirit as that with which they received the Poilus when they returned from the great war.

There was a genuine ring of enthusiasm to the shouts of greeting from thousands of persons who gathered outside the station where the Americans arrived this afternoon from Cherbourg. It was a repetition of the reception given them when they landed earlier in the day from the Steamship George Washington at Cherbourg.

More than 10,000 persons later surrounded the Arc de Triumphe to watch the American veterans pay tribute to their unknown comrades.

After a reception at the inter-allied club where Ambassador Herriek, J. J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States, and many prominent officials welcomed them, the legionnaires went to the Arc de Triumphe. Marshal Foch, Mr. Herriek, M. Jusserand and many regiments with which the Americans had fought in the war and committees of French veterans were present. Major John G. Emery, national commander of the American Legion, who heads the American delegation placed a gilt flag and a wreath of poppies, entwined with French flags, on the tomb of the Unknown soldier saying "My comrade, we greet you, not only as a soldier of France, but as our soldier. Let me bring you a spirit that is American. May the spirit of America always cover your soul as the American flag now covers your grave."

Daily Market Report

CROP ESTIMATES AFFECTS MARKET
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Bourish crop estimates from France and India caused depression in the wheat market today. Prices closed unsettled 1c to 2c net lower with September $1.23 1/2 to $1.23 3/4 and Dec. $1.25 1/2 to $1.25 3/4.
Corn lost 1/2¢ to 1c and oats 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. In provisions the outcome varied from 40¢ decline to a rise of 24¢.
Downturns in the price of wheat took place chiefly during the last hour of trading, the market earlier having been steadied by commission house demand based to a large extent on the assumption that sooner or later export business would develop in sufficient volume to absorb all wheat surplus in this country and Canada. Confidence in this view received an unexpected jolt from a statement by the French minister of agriculture putting the yield of wheat this season in France at 40,000,000 bushels above current figures asserted that foreign purchases had exceeded the country's requirements by 28,000 bushels. The Canadian crop was officially estimated at 288,000,000 bushels as against 263,000,000 bushels harvested last year. Late reports from New York that England and 500,000 bushels failed to rally the market and so did announcement that exporters had taken 300,000 bushels here.
Liberal country offerings weakened corn, December touching the lowest level yet this season. Oats like corn lacked support.
Provisions averaged lower as a result of scattered selling, while more than counter-balanced the effect of higher quotations on hogs.

CLOSING OF STOCK MARKET STEADY
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Selling of stocks was resumed today and for a time the decline made further headway. The movement was checked, before attained wide proportions and in the late dealings the market stiffened, with the closing steady. Sales were 430,000 shares.
Pressure was directed against the industrials and the standard rails were comparatively steady. In the early decline, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, Royal Dutch, Sears Roebuck and various other issues were marked down a point or more.
A tentative drive at the coppers and motors in the afternoon gave temporary result, but the last hour brought a moderate recovery. Rails, oils, equipments and shipping were in demand on the late rise, in which there was considerable short covering. Influences governing the trend of speculation were not changes in important particulars by the day's developments.
The improvement in the action of the market in comparison with yesterday's steady weakening, appeared to be due to nothing more than the stronger technical position in consequence of selling. Foreign exchange rates were regular with a narrow range. Call loans carried over until weak at six per cent.

DUN'S REPORT TODAY WILL SAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Dun's tomorrow will say:
"Business sentiment improved but actual business is still backward. Readjustments in a number of important basic departments have made further development and this is materially assisted by increasing resistance to a further lower of values, notably in the cotton woolen and silk goods divisions in which prices are now apparently on a stable basis, and in hides and leather which have benefitted by somewhat better demand from manufacturers. Advances from New England show a further resumption of activity in shoe manufacturing."
"In other industrial centers a tendency to extend operations is noted, and the improvement is slight as is natural at the height of vacation period for fall and winter is decidedly more confident. Buying of iron and steel remains restricted, but some inquiries are received and the expectation is that the railroads must soon become liberal purchasers."

ROTARY CLUB HAD SONG PROGRAM

Mr. Gage Chautauqua Platform Manager Provided Fine Leader.

A program of songs featured Friday's session of the Rotary club at the Pacific hotel. Charles A. Gage, platform manager of the chautauqua, made a brief talk and then served as the leader in a mass singing program. President V. R. Riley asked Frank Hehl of the chautauqua committee to introduce Mr. Gage, who is not unknown to Jacksonville people, as he was here last year as a member of the "preachers' quartet." Mr. Gage is a resident of Rockford and is connected with the musical department of both the international Rotary clubs and the international Kiwanis clubs.

Mr. Gage first talked informally about the meaning of music and the motive there is in many musical programs in providing the proper atmosphere for the addresses that may come later. Then he led the Rotarians in the singing of several selections and in response to the general demand closed the delightful program by singing as a solo "Irish Lullaby."

Mr. Gage took occasion to say that a glance thru the chautauqua program had easily furnished proof that some very strong attractions have been booked by the local management this year.

Earl M. Sprink served as secretary in the absence of Secretary Kopperl. Among the guests of the day was E. A. Harmon, brother of Coach W. T. Harmon.

CHICAGO CHILDREN SPENT NIGHT HERE

Twenty-Seven Boys and Girls Bound for Griggsville Cared for by Woman's College and Social Service League.

If you had happened in one of the dormitories at Illinois Woman's College last night you would have found it peopled with twenty-seven boys and girls from Chicago. The rooms were supposedly tenanted, and in fact that was the case until about 9 o'clock last night, when to meet an emergency the beds in the various rooms were quickly made ready for use and the little boys and girls from Chicago were soon asleep.

It happened in this way. The ten boys and seventeen girls left Chicago at noon yesterday over the Chicago & Alton, in charge of Misses Ruth Hagrey and Dorothy Hibbard. They were enroute to Griggsville, where the children are to spend two weeks in the homes of citizens, and thru some error were routed to Jacksonville. They landed here at 7:30 o'clock last night.

In some way the facts about the situation were sent to Miss Irene Merrill and in the emergency she called upon Dr. Harker and Mr. Metcalf at the college to come to the aid of the children. The Social Service League arranged to have the little travelers served at the Batz cafe and then they all marched down to the Woman's college for the night quarters.

This morning bright and early they are to have breakfast at the cafe and then they will be passengers on the 6:10 Wabash train for Griggsville. Anyone who looked upon the group last night could come to a better understanding of how well worth while is the movement which sends these boys and girls from the congested districts of the big city out into the cities and towns of Illinois for two weeks of care and recreation.

LOWERED RAILROAD RATES MEAN GOOD TIMES FOR FARMER

Producer Suffers When Rates Rise and Benefits When Lowered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Hopes for better conditions in the agricultural markets is justified by reductions in the railroad rates on grain for export already in effect and proposed, according to a statement issued at the white house tonight. Recent reductions in the export rate on grains between Chicago and New York, the statement said, will be followed by sweeping revisions of grain rates generally, including those from Mississippi river points and on the lines to the gulf, in order that the entire agricultural interest may share fully in the benefits.

How Rates Operate

"In general," the statement continued, "advances in freight costs are passed on to the consumer by adding them to the selling price. But, in grains, whose domestic price is dominated by the foreign price of the exported surplus, the producer suffers when rates go down and benefits when they go down. The exports represent a minor share of the total grain production, the lowering of export rates affects the entire crop. These reductions of rates, together with the arrangements for financial assistance to export trade and the assurance that Europe is going to need extraordinary quantities of American foodstuffs, constitute a justification for strong hope that the tendency in the agricultural markets will for some time be decidedly toward better prices."

Important Measure

Reductions of transportation rates on grain for export was described as one of the most important measures the administration has initiated for the relief of agriculture and of general industrial conditions. The reductions, it was explained, were insisted upon by Secretary Hoover as a concession to the agricultural interests when, on behalf of President Harding, he negotiated with the carriers the basis for settlement of their claims against the government growing out of federal control. "This was made the basis of the adjustment," the statement continued, "the railways relinquishing their so-called 'labor inefficiency' claims and undertaking to inaugurate reductions in the export grain rates, while the administration undertook to assist them by securing early settlement of their claims against the government."

PENTWATER IS FINE SUMMER RESORT

Lakeside Community Has Many Natural Advantages, Including a Wonderful Beach—Citizens Are Cordial.

Among the many Michigan resorts Pentwater is one of the most popular with a number of Jacksonville people. Pentwater is located about 180 miles north of Chicago on the Pere Marquette railroad. Many of the summer visitors there travel by boat to Muskegon and the remaining 40 or 50 miles by rail. Some years ago the boats stopped at Pentwater, but more recently the channel has filled to such an extent that the boats cannot make a landing.

T. M. Tomlinson used to visit Pentwater thirty years ago as a traveling salesman and liked the people and community so much that later he purchased a lake side cottage there. H. M. Andre is another Jacksonville man who makes annual pilgrimages to Pentwater, and at least a dozen local people have visited the resort. W. A. Furr, a former resident, is one cottage owner, his property being adjacent to lots owned by Mrs. John R. Davis.

The Pentwater beach is acknowledged one of the very finest on all Lake Michigan and there are fishing opportunities in Pentwater lake and the adjacent river. Persons who are looking for a fashionable resort will not visit Pentwater twice, but they will find there real summertime comfort and a conspicuous cordiality on the part of the townspeople.

One resortor said recently that all the merchants and other citizens treated the resortors as if they wanted to see them again and expected them to come back. That is not true of some resorts, where the "natives" seem to look upon the visitors as their proper prey and pile up all possible charges as the opportunity is offered.

No doubt one reason for the spirit shown by Pentwater citizens is the fact that for years they have maintained "The Citizens' Association." This is a business organization purposing to emphasize the many advantages of Pentwater lake, which they term "Michigan's finest natural resort." They seek also to spread abroad something of the advantages of in the heart of the fruit belt and Oceana county, which is located in the heart of the fruit belt, has within it some excellent farm land.

F. W. Fincher, president of the Pentwater State bank, is the president of the Citizens' association. Mr. Fincher is a long time resident of Pentwater and properly accounted one of its strongest and most influential citizens. He is active also in the religious life of the city and has served as superintendent of the Sunday school consecutively for more than thirty years.
